An After-School Tutoring Program for At-Risk and Homeless Children is a step-by-step guide on how to develop an after-school program for your school or community organization. This guide is based on a model of using one teacher and several volunteers to “reach and teach” academically at-risk children from poverty. Fran Anderson, the Kenosha Unified School District’s “teacher of the homeless”, developed this guide to help children not only perform better in school, but also to improve their self-esteem and help them become excited about being in school.

This guide includes information about: creating a positive learning environment, how to train volunteer tutors to perform highly structured one-on-one tutoring, necessary classroom resources, recommendations on what computer software to use, sample lesson plans, creating group lessons, instructions on teaching basic reading, writing, and math skills, and how to create an environment that provides both loving discipline while fostering dreams.

Cost is $30.00 each, with $5.00 for shipping and handling. Send your check or money order to: Kenosha Unified School District No. 1, Office of Educational Accountability, 3600 52nd Street, Kenosha, WI 53144. Please call (262) 653-6259 for additional information.
